About Us

Bruno and Rachel DeBerdt are the owner and operators of Equi Air Shipping Services. Together, they have a combined 30 years experience in the transporting of horses both on a domestic and international level. In addition, Bruno is involved in the horse racing industry, while Rachel trains and competes in Dressage.

Horses in flight

Equi Air takes all the stress and hassle out of shipping your horses. We see to every aspect of your horses' journey including taking care of all the necessary paperwork, veterinary work and arrangements for quarantine.

Equi Air uses professional flying grooms and first class airlines such as Qantas, Singapore Airlines, Federal Express, Polar, KLM, Cargolux and Korean Airlines to ensure your horses are transported in the safest manner possible.

Horses being loaded onto a plane

Equi Air has affiliate offices throughout the world and the USA in order to provide a consistent high service to our clients at both ends of the journey.

Equi Air owns a private facility to isolate horses prior to being exported with safe 24' x 16' shaded sand pens and a fully enclosed barn, located 35 miles from Los Angeles International Airport. This facility is staffed 24 hours a day with a vet on call.
